

Two florists reveal what reality is like on TV

Posies Flower Shop, Toronto, Ont.

A new reality TV show dubbed Petal Pushers has premiered on HGTV to show viewers what life is really like in a floral shop. The camera follows Toronto's Posies Flower Shop, a shop that has also been featured on the Slice network's Rich Bride, Poor Bride. Each episode of Petal Pushers revolves around owner and lead designer Karina Lemke as she helps her five employees navigate and juggle large-scale events as well as everyday orders and highlights the stress that can result when the job gets thorny.
